LOCAL MATTERS.

ME MCALLISTER BECOMES A BAPTIST. vote of the congregation. For the last five years he has been pastor of Trinity city, and recently withdrew from the membership of the Methodist church. At a meeting of the members of Trinity church, held last week, by a rising yote a resolution setting forth the eseem in which he was held by the peowhom he had served was passed. Rev. Mr. McAllister entered the ministry in 1875 after being a newspaper man in New York city for five years. He was born in Farmington, Conn., forty-eight years ago, was educated in Wesleyan University, and took the degree of L.L. D. from Columbia College

The Baltimore American says: "Rev. Dr. Wm. H. McAllister, pastor of Bethany Independent Methodist Church, at Franklin Square, was last night received into the mem-bership of Brantly Baptist Church, bership of braining baptist Church, by the Rev. J. Henry Cross, assistant paster of the church, and will be baptized on Sunday morning by the Rev. Dr. H. M. Wharton, and he will preach at Brantly Church on Sunday evening. Mr. McAllister has been in correspondence with Dr. Wharton for some time in regard to changing his deminational relations from the Methodist to the Baptist Church. Mr. Mc-Allister is one of the most picturesque characters in the pulpits of America. His pastorate at Bethany was marked for the originality of the preacher's style, and his church was thronged every Sunday evening with people, high and low, rich and poor, from every sec-tion of the city. Mr. McAllister made a short statement to the congregation his mind that the Baptist Church represented his views of the scriptures more perfectly than any other denomi-

"He appeared before the deacons of the church yesterday afternoon, and gave them quite a lengthy statement of his change of views, and he stated that he would refer more fully to the subject of his change of views on Sunday. He also said that he had become an advocate of total abstinence from liquor, having formerly held broad views on "Mr. McAllister was pastor of Bethany

Church about ten years ago, and always drew crowded congregations. His style of preaching is what some might call sensational, though he says that is a mistake—that he simply preaches the simple truth, and if he uses epigrammatical expressions, he does not consider them sensational. He married Miss Guard, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Guard, pastor of the Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church. His last pastoral charge was the Methodist Episcopal church of Alexandria, where he has just closed his fifth year. He brings strong recommendations from the Alexandria church. He states that he attention." has not yet decided as to his line of future work. He has inclinations toward literary work, but his friends strongly him to continue in the ministry. He was at one time a writer on the New York Herald. He was the pastor of st. John's and of Bethany Independent Methodist churches, this city, for seven

Mr. McAllister, it is understood, will be associated with Rev. Mr. Wherton in the latter's publishing house in Balti-more. Mr. McAllister had not returned to this city at 3 o'clock this evening, but is expected later. His family have removed from Trinity church parsonthe ladies of that church for Mr. Mc-Dougal, the recently appointed pastor, who is expected here by the first of next month. Mr. McAllister and his family will remove from this city in a

REPUBLICAN MEETING.—A mass meeting of the colored republicans was held at Odd Fellows' Hall, on south Columbus street, last night. The meeting was called to order by W. N. Jackson. S. M. Pritchett was chosen permanent chairman and J. M. Buckner, secretary. After reading the call R. L. Mitchell addressed the meeting, point ing out the proper steps to take at the colored people were asked not to fight among themselves, but against the democrais. The speaker said he was ready to fight these so-called republicans who had ignored his class and when they were finished the colored element would turn their attention to the dem-ocrats. M. L. Robinson followed, and ton. After several other speeches two sets of resolutions were offered—No 1 Buckner. After some discussion No. 1 was adopted and the secretary ordered ofurnish Col. Lamb a copy and pubish the same in the papers. The following was adopted:

The friends of Mr. Meredith in this city say that the withdrawal of Mr. R.

W. Moore, of Fairfax, as a congressional candidate will materially aid Mr. Meredith in the contest.

A number of the friends of Mr. F. E. Anderson, of this city, are urging him to announce himself a candidate for Congress in this district. They say the field of candidates is gradually becoming smaller and that Mr. Anderson will have a good chance to secure the nom-ination. He has spoken in most of the counties in the district and has made friends wherever he has gone. He now holds a prominent position in the Interior Department in Washington,

MRS. THOMAS'S CONDITION.—The condition of Mrs. Mary Thomas, who was murderously assaulted by her husband three weeks ago to-day, is said to be precarious, and it is feared the purpose of her husband may yet be accomplishd. The two wounds made on her head with the axe are still in a bad condition. Last night Mrs. Thomas was semi-delirious and restless, and powerful sedatives had to be frequently used to render her tranquil. She has weakened considerably and her anxious relatives and friends who have been untiring in their attentions to her are filled with the gravest apprehensions. The self-inflicted wounds of her busband are slowly healing and the physician who is attending him thinks he will be in a condition to be taken from the Infirmary to jail by next week.

Ex-Senator Moore's Withdraw-AL.—The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch has the following to say of Mr. R. W. Moore's withdrawal as a candidate for Congress, mention of which was made in yester-day's GAZETTE: "Ex-State Senator R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax Courthouse, who has been prominent in the field for the congressional nomination in the Eighth district, has withdrawn from the contest. Mr. Moore had a strong following in all the upper counties of the district, and his prospects of success were more than flattering. His letter making the announcement of his withdrawal will appear in the next issue of the Fairfax Herald, and in it he will say that his growing legal business and his private affairs require his undivided longing to an acquaintance. FRATERNAL VISIT.—Members of Friendship Lodge, No. 7, of Washington, paid a fraternal visit to Lafayette Lodge, No. 11, Independent Order of Mechanics, of this city, last evening. After disposing of the routine business a general discussion of the topics of the order were indulged in. Later an oyster supper was served at the Opera House Restaurant by Mr. Louis Brill and an enjoyable evening was brought the subject of religion. He imagines to a close, the visiting members return-ing to Washington on a late train.
